From the Rectory:

Dear Readers,

If I were to give one word to describe this month, I would say it's the growing month. Bees buzzing, birds tweeting, bugs getting into everything, all busy collecting food for growth of themselves and their young. Plants growing, especially the grass, making the most of the warmth, sunlight, water and nutrients provided. With all this growth and business reflected around us maybe it is time to pause and reflect on the things keeping us busy in our own life? Are they helpful for our own personal growth, our wellbeing, our families' wellbeing, or are changes needed? What effect do our actions have on those around us? Could we do things differently, make small changes that may benefit us and others in the long term?

As the season progresses, let us ask the Holy Spirit to guide and nourish us so that in time we may be the people that God has created us to be.

*God bless,
Martin*
